

People Pathways | March 2025

Your Monthly Round-up of Employee Engagement Opportunities

Welcome to the March Issue of Our People Pathways Newsletter!

This edition brings you exciting opportunities, including upcoming One Nucleus training courses covering topics such as drug development, contract law, and life science project management. We also highlight an opportunity for collaboration with South Carolina's life sciences sector, as a high-level delegation visits the UK to explore potential partnerships. Additionally, Domainex is offering an Apprentice Associate Scientist position, providing hands-on experience in a dynamic laboratory setting. Don't forget to check out our Jobs Board, Industry News, Mentoring Initiative and more.

Cambridge – South Carolina Collaboration Opportunities in Life Sciences

One Nucleus serves to bring attention, insight and connectivity to potential growth and collaboration opportunities for its members and wider network. An example has arisen with a visit to the UK of a high-level delegation from South Carolina which includes James Chappell, CEO SCBIO, Philip Morgan, South Carolina Dept of Commerce, and Aimee Redick, Upstate Alliance.
