Genesis 2022 - The Journey So Far

It will surprise no readers that our December eNews edition is impacted by our annual Genesis conference being now just a week away. Hence the timing a little earlier and content Genesis-related given the focus of the activities.

There's still time to REGISTER if your journey thus far hasn't taken you to the booking page!

Achieve more. Together.

It's been over two decades that our network has been kind enough to share with us their insights and guidance in reaching this point ahead of Genesis 2022. What started as primarily a showcase for London's life science cluster, has evolved to become one of the key events in the calendar for the wider ecosystem to connect, discuss and help shape our collective future.

The journey you will have followed this time as we have built the event has included:

Let's get started

The launch email way back in August, updated for September saw us take inspiration from various song lyrics to set out the opportunities to engage in the thought-provoking sessions, seek the best partners and clients, raise your profile, win an award and more.

Whilst this is the usual spot where we highlight some key successes amongst our members, this time it's an opportunity to congratulate those magnificent seven entries that have made it to the public vote of the Genesis 2022 BioNewsRound Award.

The finalists competing for your vote are:

AviadoBio - AviadoBio™ Raises \$80 million in Series A Financing to Advance Neurodegenerative Gene Therapy Platform

Domainex – Anti-inflammatory drug candidate DMXD-011 shows efficacy in ex-vivo human studies

Eagle Genomics/Quadram Institute/Earlham Institute - Eagle Genomics and Quadram Institute's New Strategic Partnership to Accelerate Microbiome Analysis Through AI-Augmented Knowledge Discovery Platform

PrecisionLife – New Study Reveals First Genetic Links in ME/CFS Paving the Way for New Diagnostics and Drugs

Are You Leading the Way?

In our final update, we posed some questions around the topic of leadership. We see some excellent examples in the sector (and some not-so-great ones in other parts of society!), so this year we will close the keynote programme with a dedicated panel discussing 'The Anatomy of a Life Science Leader'. We also undertook an online poll of 'Nature vs Nurture' when it comes to leadership – the results fairly clear, but will the debate change opinion? We look forward to the discussion with such a breadth of sector perspectives on the panel and in the audience.
